Georgetown Tries to Make Record by Defeating Fordham on Latter's Gridiron

GEORGETOWN FACES RIVAL IN THE BRONX

Hilltoppers Will Try to Establish Record By Defeating Fordham on Latter's Home Grounds Today.

Tom Gormley, Veteran Right Tackle, Will Be Absent From Line-Up. Owing to Suspension Under Charges.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 .- Today Fordham faces Georgetown for the Eastern Jesuit football championship, and at least 12,000 spectators are expected to be crowding around the gridiron when these two ancient rivals get together. Never has Georgetown defeated the Maroon here, but the Blue and Gray cohorts hope to make a record by winning

Prior to 1904 Fordham was generally victorious over Georgetown on the gridiron. Then for two years they did not meet. In 1907, Fordham vanquished Georgetown, 26 to 0, and in 1908, 22 to 0. In 1909, when Fordham had the strongest team in its football history, was a no-score tie. For four years the game was banished at the Bronx. but last year it was taken up again and another no-score game was played, this time in Washington, Georgetown faces Fordham today without the services of Tom Gormley, the veteran right tackle. He has been the veteran right tackle. He has been suspended, pending an investigation into charges that he bit McEwan, the Army center, at West Point a week ago Saturday. In his place will be seen either Danny O'Connor, a mountainous freshman, or Jim Dewhurst, who made a reputation for himself last fall with the Penn freshmen.

Johnny Gilroy, Georgetown's great running halfback, has recovered from his injuries and will be at his old berth hehind the Hillioppers' line. Following are the lineaues of the freshmen.

Will Meet Next Friday

SOUTH BETHLEHEM, Pa., Nov. 2.-Lehigh's next game will be with Penn Sinte on Friday. The local team came out of the contest with Gettysburg in mod condition save for Maguinnes, who has a slight case of "charley horse."

The fact that Keady, the head coach, was not placed under the necessity of using Cantain Tate, Jim Keady and Halsted on Saturday was a source of satisfaction, as these men have profited by the rest, and with the possible exception of Keady may start against Penn, State, thus strengthening both line and backfield.

Light work will be the rule during the next few days, during which the forward pass and the blocking game will be further developed. An effort also will be made to cure the men of their fumbling habit. Lehigh's next game will be with Penn

Golf Island.

OCEAN CITY, N. J., Nov. 2.— The first "golf island" in the history of the royal and an-cient game is to be the site of the new eighteen-hole course of the Ocean City Golf Club, on which work of construction is to be started in a few weeks. The entire course of this latest addition to the sequence of coast golf links along the New Jersey shore will be surrounded by salt water, and golfers ed by salt water, and golfers throughout the East are speculating on the possibilities sug-gested by the coming oppor-tunity to play their favorite game under the same climatic conditions as prevail on the fa-mous boardwalks of both this resort and Atlantic City.

BANNOCKBURN TITLE MATCHES THIS MONTH

Harvest Home Tournament Finds Travers and Burton Tied For Honor.

E. W. Burton and W. I. Travers, two of the best golfers at Bannockburn, are tied today in the qualifying round of the Harvest Home tournament to be played off during the month. The first round in the three sixteens will be played off before November 7.

played off before November 7.

Eighteen holes of match play will be the order for those qualifying. Scores are unusually high owing to the fact that the course is fast at this time. The winner of the tournament will have possession of the Home cup and the championship of the club. The finals are expected to be played off Thanksgiving Day.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Jackson, Chicago University's right tackle, is out for the season. It was announced here today. He broke his right ankle in Saturday's

He broke his right ankle in Saturday's game with Wisconsin.

This week will be a rather drab time among Western footballers. The Cornell game at Ann Arbor is the only one scheduled for next Saturday that is of more than local interest. And the interest in that could be compared with the interest the world would show in a pitched battle between the entire German army and the Sultan of Sulu's armed forces.

The second division conference teams are the only ones to meet Saturday in title games. These are Indiana and Ohio State and Iowa on Purdue's home grounds. While the Maroons toy with Haskell's Indians here, Minnesota and Illinois will be having an off day.

Nebraska, looking like the only real goods in this section, has a practice game with Nebraska Wesleyan.

So it comes to pass that another week must elapse before the "crushul" series stuff can be pulled again.

November 13, Chicago, victorious in nil her conference games so far, meets Minnesota, and Illinois battles Wisconsin. If Chicago beats Minnesota, which is a catch-as-catch-can chance, and if Illinois beats Wisconsin, which seems likely, then the conference title will be settled here November 20, when the Maroons and Illinois meet.

Davenbort's contract with the Feds expired this year and it was reported that he is holding out for a salary of $10.00 for next season. It is also said that the lanky Texan tore up a contract tendered him by the local Feds a day or two after the season closed.
